

Dear FCC,
Thank you for taking the time to read this. On behalf of so many XM Radio subscribers, please don't let political influence deprive the public of a choice for local weather, traffic, etc. Due to the ever-rising traffic conditions the public should be offered the best possible media outlet to get by day to day. And if XM Radio offers that best choice, the public should be given that choice to make our very busy lives a bit easier. XM Radio is only going to make the radio industry as a whole much better because as we all know competition benefits us all.

I signed up for XM Radio last December and have not turned it off since. It's a great valuable "tool" to have and the wealth of info right at our fingertips and now we hear there are those that want to take that away from us instead of improving on their own services. Even if these media groups succeed in slowing down XM Radio, I'm still not going to listen to them because their service to put it bluntly SUCKS! Too many commercials, behind the times and the lack of imaginative programming.

Thank you so much in hearing "our" thoughts!

Fayne
